WIFE 13 YEARS OLD COMPLAINS

Child Wife of Charles Branon Pours out Unusual Story before Justice Harnish who Lists Case for Trial at Court.

Accused by his thirteen year old wife of threats against her life Charles Branon, of Hamilton township, this morning appeared before Squire Harnish and heard his child wife pour out a tale which was as distressing as it was unusual.

The little girl is a daughter of Mrs. Annie Wagaman and had been courted by Branon who, by the way, is a brother of Joseph Branon, one of the Christmas night jail breakers and now in the Eastern Penitentiary serving a sentence. The child wife said at the hearing that she married Branon at Hagerstown on August 6 because she was afraid of what he might do if she refused.

The girl said she had told Branon before marriage that her age was only thirteen and he, in answer, said that if he ever saw her with another man before she was eighteen he would kill them both. He induced her later to go to Hagerstown where, so the child testified, he made her say that she was eighteen. The United Brethren minister who married them was told this and the ceremony was performed.

Since the wedding the couple have not been getting along well. The man, it is said, has not supported her though he has done her no violence. He is about twenty three years of age, tall and strong, and District Attorney White informed him at the hearing that it would go hard with him if any ill treatment of the wife was ever reported.

An effort was made to get the two to be reconciled but the girl was firm in her determination not to live with her husband and the surety of the peace case was held over for hearing at Court.

HORNETS HOLD UP WORKMEN

A swarm of hornets held a gang of nine carpenters at bay for an entire day at the barn of E. S. Brillhart, at Porters. Mr. Brillhart had engaged the carpenters to put a new roof on his barn and when the work was commenced in the morning the hornets, which had their nests along the patch board, came out and chased the men to the ground. Throughout the day they would not allow the men to go ahead with their work. The hornets were killed and the nest, nearly the size of a half bushel measure, was taken down in the evening.

He is in the hospital suffering internal injuries as the result of a collision between an electric car and a sight seeing automobile in which he and a number of Philadelphians were riding. Several members of the party were badly shaken up, including Robert J. Bell, past grand commander of a G. A. R. Post in Philadelphia.

EXPECT BIG CROWD ON PARADE DAY

Eight Bands Expected for Parade of Independent Americans Next Week. Many Excursions have been Booked. The Plans.

The local committee having in charge the arrangements for the state convention of the Order of Independent Americans, to be held in Gettysburg next week, report that the attendance will be large and that everything points to a big parade day.

Both railroads have excursions booked for Tuesday and several thousand members of the order with their degree teams and bands will be here for the day.

Carlisle, Reading Harrisburg and Norristown will all send excursions to Gettysburg Tuesday while members of York and Livingston councils of York; McAllister council, Hanover and Golden Star council, Dallastown will conduct a joint excursion on September 17 and will take part in the parade in the afternoon. At Beaver Falls last year about 7000 men were in line, and at Chester the year before between 9000 and 10,000.

The committee reports that eight bands are already listed from out of town, two of which are the Dallastown and Eighth Regiment bands, and several more are expected. Most of the councils will have their degree teams in uniform and the event promises to be quite a spectacle. The prizes offered by the Gettysburg council and announced in these columns seem to be serving as a good drawing card.

CADET MCGILL HAD A SCRAP

Cadet Joseph McGill, who several weeks ago mysteriously disappeared from the West Point Military Academy and came to his home, Auburn, at Catactin Furnace, near Frederick, left Monday for West Point to secure his dismissal from the academy. Joseph McGill was a student at Gettysburg College last year. Before leaving for West Point he gave out a statement explaining his departure. He said all of the accounts published about his arrest were incorrect. Instead of a hazing episode, he said, it was a fist fight which he had with another cadet following a disagreement. He denied that Cadet Hemphill, of Texas, was arrested for "bracing" a light form of hazing as first reported. He would not divulge the name of the cadet with whom he fought, but said he desired to make this, his first statement in order to have the facts correctly published.

HOOVER ASSAULT CASE IN COURT

The cases against Edward Hewitt, Blaine Murtorf, Ira Rinehart and Oliver Cline, involving two cases of alleged felonious assault, and that of George B. Hoover, of Bendersville, pointing a revolver on outa of Edward Hewitt, are on trial in Cumberland county court. Hoover is the prosecutor in the cases against the four other defendants.

In opening the trial Mr. Hoover testified that he is proprietor of a hotel and a liveryman of Bendersville. On the night of May 30 last he took two men, Fostnot and Straub, of Harrisburg, to Holly. When Fostnot (near the "fish pond") asked defendant how far it was to Holly the reply came in the form of an oath. Then shortly afterward, the defendants drove close to their team and one assaulted him with a whip. They had stones. He was hit so hard he didn't know what struck him. Did not point a gun, but had one in his pocket. Didn't exchange words with the boys at any time nor attempt to whip them.

Hewitt said at the hearing he threw a stone. Murtorf admitted cutting him with whip. Did not provoke an assault; they followed him. He borrowed the revolver to make the trip, for protection. Was hit or kicked in face; arm and back were injured. Was unconscious for a time. Straub took him home. He was in bed 24 days and for 55 days he couldn't do a thing.

The witness stated he had a couple glasses of beer in Gettysburg. Takes whiskey once in a while. Straub was sober that day. They left the lobby hotel between 9 and 10 o'clock for Holly. None of the young men said it was 7 miles to Holly. Did not insult people all along the road. Denied cursing the boys. Denied threatening to whip the boys. Didn't hit Murtorf with a whip. They hit him on the head but he doesn't know how. Believes Murtorf was out of the buggy, then. Whip belonged to witness. Denied telling boys to stop. The handle of the revolver "stuck out" of the pocket. His face was bleeding before he fell out of the buggy. He drove on to Holly; drove himself. Mr. Straub took him back home. They met the boys again, on the way. Didn't say to them at Myers store, "Come over and I'll give you all you want to drink." Witness weighed about 174, before the assault and now about 147. Didn't tell Hewitt to move on a few days ago, while later was subpoenaing witness. Did say, "That's the man who hit me on the head."

D. P. Delap, a prosecutor in one of the cases, that against Rinehart, and Cline, was next called. He is a teacher and justice of the peace. He testified as to Hoover's condition.

Hoover, recalled—testified that after the information was made before Justice Hughes, another information was made before Justice Hummelbaugh.

Dr. Stover, of Bendersville, testified in detail as to Hoover's wound.

Mr. Straub, a wallpaper man from Harrisburg, testified that he employed Hoover to take him to Holly. When the boys were asked "How far is it to Holly" the reply came in the form of an oath. He saw Hoover being cut with whip. The fellow took two hands to throw the rock at Hoover, who when hit, fell between the wheels and was unconscious for about half an hour. Hoover said nothing to the boys. Witness asked Hoover for the revolver. Hoover never had the revolver out of his pocket.

Cross examined—was not drinking at Bendersville all day. Was not so drunk as to miss train. Was not drinking at bar for three or four hours. Didn't see Hoover drunk. Did set it up at the bar. The three did not insult people along the road. Denied swearing to the boys. Nobody made a remark about fighting. Hoover's whip didn't strike any of the boys. Wanted to get away from the boys; don't know whether any of them got out or not. Hoover was just putting his foot on the step of the buggy when he was struck with the stone.

George Fostnot testified that he resides at Harrisburg. Was with Straub and Hoover. Did not see Hoover struck with whip as his back was turned, but Hoover was knocked senseless with a stone. No bad language was used.

G. O. P. LEADS IN MAINE VOTE

The Republicans Have Probably Swept the State.

GAINS EIGHT PER CENT.

Governor and Possibly Four Congressmen Elected as Against Two at Last Election.

Portland, Me., Sept. 10.—Heavy Republican gains throughout the state indicate that William T. Haines will be elected over the present Democratic governor, Frederick W. Plaisted, and that three and possibly four Republican congressmen would be elected as against two at the last election.

Returns for governor from 428 out of 634 election districts comprising twelve out of twenty cities and 348 out of 501 towns, give Haines 48,713; Plaisted, 45,420. This shows a Republican gain of 8 per cent.

Complete returns from Augusta gives Plaisted, Democrat, for governor, 1349; W. T. Haines, Republican, 1195. Two years ago Plaisted had a majority of 305. Governor Plaisted's home is in Augusta.

In the First district Congressman Asher C. Hinds is running considerably ahead of the ticket and he will probably win over his Democratic opponent, Michael T. O'Brien. In the Second district Congressman McGillicuddy and his Republican opponent, William B. Skelton, are running neck and neck, the latter leading slightly, with about half the district to be still heard from.

Democratic Congressman Samuel W. Gould apparently faces defeat in the Third district at the hands of Forest Goodwin, and in the Fourth district Republican Congressman Frank E. Goenssey is more than holding his own with Charles Mullen, the present mayor of Bangor.

The returns are coming in very slowly and it is impossible yet to make positive predictions, but it is apparent that there has been at least a partial ebb of the Democratic tidal wave which swept the state two years ago. It is impossible at present to even predict the complexion of the state legislature.

Several well defined state issues were decided in the election, and a few questions of national importance were passed upon. A governor, four congressmen, county officers and the legislature were elected. The legislature selected will choose a United States senator next winter.

Balloting began in some of the cities a few hours after sunrise, but it was well into the forenoon before voting began in the country towns and the fishing places. The polls closed in most places at five o'clock, but in a few small towns voting ceased an hour earlier.

In the cities, where there are manufacturing plants, the early voting was fairly heavy. In a few of the larger cities the Republican leaders stationed detectives at the polling booths.

ARKANSAS IS WET

State-Wide Prohibition is Defeated by at Least 35,000.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 10.—Indications on the face of returns from widely scattered districts over Arkansas are that the state-wide prohibition petition has been defeated by from 35,000 to 50,000 votes.

A large negro vote has been polled, probably the largest in the state's history, and this vote will be almost solid against prohibition. The heavy negro vote on the face of the returns makes it highly probable that the amendment incorporating the "grandfather's clause," which would disqualify fully 75 per cent of the negro vote, was defeated.

DROWNS SELF IN RIVER

Guicide Ties Himself to Tree to Avoid Loss of Body.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 10.—In a fit of despondency, caused by nervous indigestion, Adam Miller, fifty years old, drowned himself in the Conestoga river near here.

His body was found by a canoeist. Miller had tied himself to a tree with a long rope. It is presumed that he did so because he did not wish his body to be washed away.

The dead man is survived by a widow, two daughters and a son.

McNamara Has Appendicitis.
San Quentin, Cal., Sept. 10.—James B. McNamara, serving a life sentence in the San Quentin prison for murder in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, has been operated on for appendicitis. His recovery is expected.

Mice Start Fire in House.
Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 10.—Mice nibbling matches caused a fire in the house of Mrs. Rebecca Riddle here. The fire destroyed the contents of several rooms and endangered the entire building for a time.

40,000 LIVES LOST IN TYPHOON IN CHINA

Vast Area Flooded When River Overflows.

Shanghai, Sept. 10.—Immense loss of life is reported in mail advices just received from Wen-Chow, in the province of Chekiang.

Chinese estimates give the death toll between 30,000 and 40,000 as the result of a typhoon, combined with torrential rains and high tides which occurred Aug. 29. Great floods followed and the upper Wen-Chow river overflowed a vast area.

The town of Tsingien, forty miles northwest of Wen-Chow, was overwhelmed and 10,000 of the inhabitants were drowned.

Various other towns and villages were destroyed and the prefecture at Chuchow, an important missionary station, was washed away.

HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Secretary of U. S. Legation at Panama and Girl Arrested in New York.

New York, Sept. 10.—Harry E. Nolan, secretary of the American legation at Panama, was arrested in this city.

The police say he has been living at the Hotel Astor since last Friday with a young Scotch girl named Marion McVickar, who is sixteen years old.

The matter came into the hands of the police when the Old Dominion line reported that Miss McVickar, who had come from Newport News on their vessel, was missing. The Old Dominion was to turn the girl over to the Anchor line on Saturday morning, so that she could be taken back to Scotland, this arrangement having been made by her father, an innkeeper in Glasgow.

The police began a search for the girl, and when she went into the offices of the Anchor line and demanded the money which her father had paid for her ticket from New York to Scotland, detectives were waiting on the outside, so the clerk turned over the ticket, but not the money.

Outside the ticket office the girl joined a man, and the detectives immediately took them both into custody. A serious charge was made against the man, who proved to be Nolan.

MAY INTERVENE TO PACIFY MEXICO

U. S. Army Held Ready For Quick Duty.

EXPECT ANOTHER REBEL RAID

The Situation So Critical That Mr. Taft, Loth to Do So, May Order the Move.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The tensely of the situation along the Mexican border was reflected here by the continuation of preparations for any emergency, chiefly the possibility of President Taft calling a special session of congress to decide upon the question of intervention.

With the border patrols strengthened by additional cavalry, and other troops throughout the west ready to move at an hour's notice, war department officials felt they had the situation well in hand. They were apprehensive of the next move of the rebel commander, General Salazar, encamped within sight of the United States troops along the Arizona line, protesting he meant no harm, but believed to be planning another raid into American territory.

With the knowledge that President Taft had let it be known at Beverly that he viewed current conditions in Mexican territory as a real menace to American lives and property and that drastic action might be necessary to obtain their protection, officers of the government in Washington felt that there was no reason for keeping down the lid, and they lifted it enough to disclose that from the viewpoint of the administration something more radical than has marked the course of the president and his advisers up to this time might have to be undertaken if the situation did not change materially for the better.

Nothing has appeared in Washington to indicate that the president has any other desire than to avoid sending United States troops across the Mexican border. It is said in his behalf that he would be reluctant to adopt a course of that character, not merely on account of its certain effect on the relations between Mexico and the United States, but because of the danger that such an act of hostility, as it would be so construed throughout Mexico, would be followed by a massacre of the virtually helpless Americans at Cananea and the other places where there are large contingents of citizens of the United States.

MADERO OPPOSES U.S. ACTION

Declares That There is No Need For Intervention.

Mexico City, Mex., Sept. 10.—In spite of the activity of the United States government in transporting troops to the international border, and the intimation from Beverly, Mass., that intervention may come, President Madero is confident that there will be no intervention.

Madero believes that Mexico can handle her own troubles. He declared that conditions, especially in the northern states, are fast improving. He said:

"In the south the disturbances are being put down. Americans are not in danger. We need no outside help, for our trained troops are equal to any demand levied upon them."

Emiliano Zapata's boasted advance on the capital has not yet materialized. Bands of several hundred rebels were sighted between Ajusco and Parres, about forty miles south of the capital, and undoubtedly there are a number of other bands riding about in the neighborhood of Yautepec, east of Cuernavaca.

Antonio Serna and three of his lieutenants who had aided him in formulating a plan to open the capital to the Zapatistas on the night of Sept. 15, were put to death.

ANOTHER DEATH FROM RACE

Three Others May Die as Result of Motorcycle Crash.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 10.—The death list resulting from the accident at the motordrome, when Eddy Haska crashed into the grand stand on his machine during a motorcycle race, was increased to seven by the death in the City hospital of William Barrett, of this city.

Three other victims of the crash, two of them boys under fourteen years of age, are unconscious at the hospital and are not expected to survive.

WHAT TO DO WITH VEAL

Veal, to be wholesome, should never be put on the market until six or eight weeks old. Younger meat is apt to produce serious disturbance in the digestive tract. Good veal may be told by its pinkish colored flesh and white fat. Veal should be thoroughly cooked, and being deficient in fat, pork or other fat should be supplied.

Veal Pie.—Cook until tender a portion of the leg or shoulder; cut the meat in bits, add a few slices of fat salt pork, add cream to cover. Season and put a cover of biscuits over the top and bake. A little onion adds to the flavor of this pie. Chicken pie may be placed out very satisfactorily by cooking a piece of veal with the chicken. The flavor can hardly be distinguished from chicken.

Veal Birds.—Remove the bone and skin from thin slices of veal taken from the leg. Pound until a half-inch thick; cut in pieces an inch and a half by two and a half, each piece making a bird. Chop the trimmings of the meat, add a piece of fat salt pork, two or three small cubes to each piece or bird. Add equal parts of cracker crumbs moistened with egg, onion juice, lemon juice and seasoned with salt and pepper.

Spread this mixture over the pieces of meat, roll up and fasten with two tooth picks put in to resemble the legs of a bird. Brown in a little hot butter, cover with stock made from stewing the bones and bits of skin, and cook twenty minutes, or until tender. Serve with a white sauce poured around the birds.

The white sauce is made by covering the meat with cream after dredging well with flour.

Veal Loaf.—Put a knuckle of veal with a pound of the meat and one onion into boiling water and cook slowly until tender. Drain and chop the meat fine, season with salt and pepper. Garnish the bottom of the mold with hard cooked eggs, sliced, sprinkle with parsley and cover with a layer of the meat; repeat, then pour over the meat liquor reduced to a cupful. Press and chill.

Press and chill.

The KITCHEN CABINET

"I PRAY you, O excellent wife," says Emerson, "not to cumber yourself and me to get a rich dinner for this man or this woman who has alighted at our gate, nor yet a bed chamber made ready at too great a cost. These things, if they are curious in, they can get for a dollar at any village. But let this stranger, if he will, in your looks, in your accent and behavior, read your heart and earnestness, your thought and will, which he cannot buy at any price in any village or city, and which he may well travel fifty miles and dine sparingly and sleep hard in order to behold. Certainly let the board be spread and let the bed be dressed for the traveler; but let not the emphasis of hospitality lie in these things."

ICY DISHES.

During hot weather there is no more refreshing dessert or main course accompaniment than the ices and sherbets.

Mint Sherbet.—Bruise the leaves of a bunch of fresh mint and pour over it in a large bowl a pint of boiling hot sugar syrup; add the juice of two lemons, the rind of one and a cup of shredded pineapple. Freeze. When half frozen, add the whites of two eggs beaten stiff. Freeze to the consistency of white snow.

Combination Sherbet.—For this one may use a cupful of two or three kinds of canned fruit juice, choosing those that blend well. A cup of raspberry juice from preserves and a cup of pineapple sirup is a good one to combine; add a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a pint of sirup made by boiling together five minutes a cup of sugar and a pint of water. When cold, add a teaspoonful of vanilla and mix all together. Freeze quite stiff and then add the white of an egg beaten stiff with a tablespoonful of powdered sugar.

Milk Sherbet.—The juice of four lemons, two cups of sugar and a quart of rich milk, all mixed together and frozen, makes a very nice and economical sherbet. This is sometimes called velvet sherbet.

Grape Juice Sherbet.—This is the most beautiful watermelon pink when carefully made, and tastes as good as it looks. Take a pint of grape juice, a tablespoonful of lemon juice, a cup of sugar, or more, depending upon the sweetness of the grape juice, and a pint of thin cream. Freeze.

If winter dairying is to be the most profitable it must be planned for definitely in advance.

Any man who will strike a horse in the head should never be allowed to touch one again.

MAIL AROUND THE HOUSE

Fish is very unwholesome when not well cooked, as well as unpalatable.

When making meringue use granulated sugar in preference to powdered sugar.

Raspberries and blackberries should be mulched with straw or litter after they have been shallow cultivated two or three times in the spring.

If the onions are not growing well, a little nitrate of soda or hen manure sown broadcast, before or during a rain, often helps them to fill out.

You don't have to take the frost out of the bits these days, but you might take the fire out of your temper and save much suffering in the horses' mouths.

Sugar-beet growing means more than the mere profits from growing the beets. It introduces a higher type of agriculture and the crops raised in rotation are better.

At this season cows should be dry, so as to avoid milking during fly time and excessive heat. Pastures are short, too, and a dry cow can stand it better than a good milker.

It pays to whitewash, ventilate and properly light stables; to brush and curry cows; to use clean and well-covered utensils, to cool milk quickly and to have a cool place for the milk.

The smoother the perches the more easily they can be kept free from vermin. And have them movable.

Grasshoppers sometimes inflict injury on the young trees by eating the tender bark on the small limbs.

As soon as scouring begins, give the calf a teaspoonful of ground cloves. One dose is usually sufficient.

Had Given Him Wrong Banner.

"A prominent educator of a co-educational institution recently told with evident appreciation the following experience of a prominent professor of a celebrated university in New York city:

"The professor is blessed with a particularly energetic and progressive wife, who is a leader in the suffragette movement. When the recent demonstrative procession was organized in New York she insisted upon the professor adding his influence to the movement by participating in the procession. He yielded and set out. The wife's prominence in the movement gave her a place in the reviewing stand and she was mortally chagrined to see the professor, shame faced, straggling along, carrying his banner in such a drooping and careless way that she could not even see what was upon it.

"At the first opportunity her reproaches fell fierce and fast on the professor, who finally managed to break in with, 'But, my dear, my dear, you really must not blame me; I had an awful time. What do you think that banner was? Imagine! It was a most horrible cartoon of a whisky-soaked and bedraggled bum with the motto, 'This man can vote, why can't I?'"

The Weak Spot.
All the day's provisions except the butter were ordered by telephone. The housekeeper came to the store to pick that out herself.

"That is a peculiarity of many women," said the grocer. "No matter how long they have been trading with a grocer or a butcher, no matter how reliable they may know him to be, they make a hobby of one certain commodity on which they distrust his judgment. Everything else may be ordered by telephone or through the clerks, but they insist upon coming to the store and picking out that particular article. Some women want to sort out the eggs, others must taste and smell the butter, or maybe it is the tea or the coffee or the cheese they are suspicious about. It's a queer notion. If they can trust us in other things it stands to reason that we'd give a square deal all the way through, but these doubting Thomases will take no chances."

Your Kidneys Need Cleaning

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy, ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough Cleaning Right Now.

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise, and yet the teeth are not one tenth as important to health, strength and a long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes again and again?

And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood, and it stays in the blood and causes disease in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism, for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid in the blood, and uric acid gets into the blood only when the kidneys are clogged up and are unable to properly strain the impurities.

Just go to the People's or Huber's Drug Stores today and get a bottle of Thompson's Barosma, the most scientific kidney, liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known, take it regularly for two weeks, and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder, and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed by the People's and Huber's Drug Stores to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder, or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier, and will bring the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents add $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

VEDRINES AVERAGES 105 MILES AN HOUR

Frenchman Favorite For Gordon Bennett Trophy Race.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Jules Vedrines, of the French team, driving a Delfussin monoplane, flew 124.8 miles in 70 minutes and 56.85 seconds in the competition for the James Gordon Bennett 12,000 franc ($2400) trophy in the international contest over the clearing course.

Vedrines, who is the favorite in the race, was the first of the six entrants to start. His performance was wonderful and by it he shattered all the American air records and many of the world's records, approximating 105 miles an hour for the entire flight.

Vedrines got a beautiful start in his beetle-shaped monoplane, rising easily from the ground and getting under full speed in a minute. Although there was a considerable wind at the time, Vedrines refused to delay the start. He soon reached a speed of 103 miles an hour, according to the presiding officials at the course.

Keeping close to the ground, flying perfectly straight away, except at the turns, the Frenchman shaved the course to the very last inch. A steady and strong wind swept up. As the breeze freshened, Vedrines crept closer and closer to earth. Most of the race was flown at an altitude of not more than 100 feet, and a part of the time it seemed as though the daring aviator would strike the steel pillars marking the turnings, so close did he keep to earth.

The distance of the race is 124.8 miles, or about thirty laps around a 4.14 mile course. The Bennett trophy was donated in 1908.

With the American defender built by a syndicate for this race withdrawn the big prize was practically conceded to France. The French team had three monoplanes, each with a speed of more than 100 miles an hour. The French aviators are Jules Vedrines, Maurice Prevost and Andre Frey. The Americans are Delloyd Thompson, Paul Peck and Howard Gill.

BUMPER YIELD FOR ALL CROPS

Government Report Indicates Banner Farm Year.

MONEY TO MOVE CROPS

Secretary of Treasury May Distribute Surplus Funds Among National Banks For That Purpose.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Bumper crops of corn, wheat, potatoes, spring wheat, oats, barley, rye and buckwheat were forecasted by the crop reporting board of the department of agriculture in its September report.

Corn probably will reach 2,995,000 bushels, exceeding the record crop of 1905 by about 68,000,000 bushels, the crop of last year by 464,000,000 bushels and the crop of 1910 by 102,000,000 bushels.

The potato yield this year, it is estimated, will be 398,000,000 bushels, overstepping the bumper crop of 1909 by about 9,000,000 bushels, and the crop of 1910 by about 49,000,000 bushels.

Spring wheat crop probably will be 800,000,000 bushels, or 8,000,000 bushels over the record of 1908, 199,000,000 bushels over last year's crop and 99,000,000 bushels over the 1910 crop.

The harvest of oats, according to the report, will be 1,290,000,000 bushels, exceeding the record crop of 1910 by 104,000,000 bushels, and last year's crop by 368,000,000 bushels.

The crop of rye will be, it is believed, about 300,000 bushels greater than the record crop of 1910; buckwheat about 400,000 bushels higher than the record crop of 1910, and flax will almost reach the record crop of 1902.

A preliminary estimate of the total production of hay places it at 72,000,000 tons, compared with 55,000,000 tons harvested in 1910. The quality of the hay crop is estimated at 92.1 per cent, compared with 91.0 per cent, the average for the past ten years.

The condition of apples was 67.9 per cent of a normal on Sept. 1, compared with 53.8 per cent, the average condition on Sept. 1 for the last ten years.

Secretary MacVeagh has under consideration suggestions that the treasury department distribute some of its surplus funds among the national banks to be available for the movement of crops during the next few weeks. The working balance in the treasury is $90,500,000. Half of this amount, it is said, could be deposited in the national banks if necessary.

Mr. MacVeagh in all probability will discuss with President Taft before the close of the week the question of depositing some of the government funds to meet the crop moving demands.

ALLEGED SLAYER SOLD WIFE

Infant Child Was Struck on Head and Killed During Quarrel.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 10.—John Leon, a miner of Sturgeon, charged with the murder last January of his one-year-old daughter, was placed on trial here.

According to the information the grand jury received, Leon had sold his wife to Max Tamalin, a friend. One child was to go with the wife, it was said, the other child to remain with the father.

An argument resulted from this, and in the quarrel between Leon and Tamalin the infant child, in the arms of its mother, was struck on the head with a pick handle, alleged to have been wielded by its father.

CITIZENSHIP FOR SOCIALIST

The United States attorney will file a stipulation which will practically be a confession of error. This is expected to cause the circuit court to restore Olsson's citizenship.

100 RUSSIAN ARMY MUTINEERS KILLED

200 More Are Wounded in Pitched Battle.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10.—Mutiny broke out in the Russian army stationed in the government of Vinnia in Lithuania, and in a battle between loyal troops and the rebel soldiers 100 of the mutineers were slain and 200 wounded.

The troops which mutinied were sappers stationed in the barracks at Orany. After the uprising they seized the barracks and defied the military authorities to oust them.

A regiment of infantry was sent against the rebels. The foot soldiers drove the deserters from their quarters by a galling fire. Although the mutineers returned the fire there was no account made of the casualties among the loyal troops.

The outbreak shows that the mutinous spirit exists in the army as well as in the navy, dissatisfaction having broken out recently at Sebastopol, where the ships fired on the shore forts. It now develops that the revolutionary movements in the land and sea forces were related.

When news of the outbreak was received in St. Petersburg the minister of war issued orders for a movement of troops to insure the presence of soldiers of unquestioned loyalty in St. Petersburg.

Arrest Man in Chicago For Murder of "Bugs" Raymond.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Fred Siegruns was arrested here, charged with having beaten to death Arthur, better known as "Bugs" Raymond, the former National league pitcher.

Saturday it was announced that Raymond had died of heart disease, aggravated by excessive heat. His body was found in a small down town hotel.

Mrs. Labette declared after the shooting that Aphia had annoyed her on several occasions. She said that she found the man in a room upstairs, and that when he tried to seize her she ran into another room, procured her husband's revolver and killed him instantly.

Sleepwalker Scares Hotel Clerk.

Sunbury, Pa., Sept. 10.—Falling twenty feet from the second floor of a hotel, James Shiffer, of Scranton, Pa., landed on a stone sidewalk and escaped with a bloody nose. He was clad only in his white pajamas. Walking into the hotel, the night clerk believed him a ghost and gave a loud scream, seizing a revolver, when Shiffer shouted an explanation. It was an hour before the clerk recovered from the fright his visitor gave him.

Character Revealed by Eyes.

Gray eyes denote creative temperament, but not always honesty. What the novelists and poets term the cold, gray eye is considered to be a sign of selfishness and cruelty, though it often denotes shrewdness and talent. Very clever people whose eyes are gray generally have small spots of orange in the iris round the pupil.

Original Woman Suffragist.

A modern historian makes the claim that Congru Hroff, the mighty Viking, who afterward became the first duke of Normandy and the progenitor of William the Conqueror, was the original woman suffragist, and that it was this valiant Norseman who sounded the first clarion call for women's rights ten centuries ago.

Fewer Holidays in Argentina.

By a decree recently issued by the Argentine government four holidays, or feast days, are eliminated from the Argentine calendar. They are February 2, March 25, and the celebration of the feast of Corpus Christi (which this year fell on June 6), June 24 and September 8.

Country Without Manufactures.

Panama has practically no manufactures. The principal exports are bananas, coconuts, hides and skins, ivory, nuts, rubber and hardwood, of which the United States receives the greater portion. More than half of the imports are furnished by the United States and consist chiefly of foodstuffs, textiles and hardware.

Worth Trying.

Those who live on the mountain have a longer day than those who live in the valley. Sometimes all we need to brighten our day is to rise a little higher.

Joined His First Love in Death.

After an absence of over 20 years, a former aged resident of Rainham, Kent, England, returned to the district late the other night, and, groping his way through the tombstones in the local cemetery, found the graves of his first wife and son, and there shot himself. The man, who carried on business in Great Peter street, Westminster, posted a letter from Rainham to his second wife, and his daughter, saying he had gone to join his first wife and son.

Bell Ringer's Occupation Gone.

The abolition of the custom of ringing the town bell at Buntingford, Hertfordshire, England, which for 300 years has tolled for deaths and funerals from over the gateway of an inn, throws out of occupation Saunders, the bell ringer, whose family have rung the bell continuously for over 140 years.

Selfish Philosophy.

"You can be a great hero," said the campaign adviser, "by standing aside and letting someone else have the office you wanted." "Yes," replied the energetic candidate. "But the other fellow will get all the medals and applause. What's the use of being an anonymous hero?"

London's Smoke Nuisance.

Half of London's smoke nuisance is caused by the coal fires in private dwellings, the owners of which are not liable for prosecution. It is expected that a good deal of missionary work will have to be done among householders before the smoke evil can be lessened appreciably.

Mule to Be Reckoned With.

"Is you gwine ter let that mule do as he pleases?" asked Uncle Ephraim's wife. "What's you'll power?" "My will power's all right," he answered. "You jest want her come out hyar an' measure dis here mule's won't power."

Belief Deeply Rooted.

I had rather believe in fables in the Talmud and the Koran, than that this universal frame is without a mind. —Bacon.

Runk & Peckman's Realty Report

Last week we made three more good sales, two farms and a mill property. The time to sell is when you have a buyer. List your property with us at a fair price and we will furnish the buyer. We cannot and will not try to sell a property for more than it is worth for we must serve the buyer as well as the seller. Many of our customers are tenants who have saved enough money to pay a portion of the purchase money on a farm of their own. We help them to borrow the balance and lenders will not make loans on properties purchased at fictitious values.

If you are a tenant and have some money saved up, why not buy a farm of your own. You can pay for it with the money you are now making for your landlord and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that everything you do to improve the property will be so much money made for yourself. Come to see us. Consult our list and we may be able to show you the very property that will suit you. If we do not have what you want, you will not be asked to buy what you don't like.

Daily Thought.

"Love can never die. That's the greatest He gave to everybody."

FINE TEST OF CLEAR SPEECH

Conversation with the Blind Will Test One's Power of Making Listeners Understand You.

Let no one boast of his descriptive powers until he has tested them in conversation with a blind person," said the city missionary. "I used to think that I had the knack of making things pretty clear, but after I began to escort the blind on their walks I found that I had not the slightest conception of concise, comprehensive speech. My first experience of the kind was at a naval parade. I guided two blind men down to Riverside to 'see' the ships. I described to the best of my ability what was going on, but I soon found from the questions they asked that I had given them no idea of what the pageant looked like. I reasoned that the fault must be mine. The men had been blind a good while, but they had retentive memories and an active imagination, and with that material to work on I should have achieved better results.

"From that day I began to cultivate the gift of accurate description. Even when out alone I talked to myself trying to put into words the pictures I saw. By degrees I acquired the art of seeing my blind charges see through my eyes. My biggest stumbling block was women's clothes. No woman I met anywhere show a keener avidity to keep up with the fashions than those I take out from the blind asylum, and it requires every one of my newly acquired gifts to convey an adequate idea of the season's styles."

GOOD SOIL FOR AN ORCHARD

Must Be Prepared Sufficiently Deep and Drained So That Roots May Reach Into Subsoil.

First of all, the soil must be well drained and prepared sufficiently deep so that the roots may reach deep into the subsoil. Second, the surface soil must be cultivated frequently and a rotation of cover crops and catch crops employed so that a sufficient amount of plant food will be made available to promote a rapid, healthy growth rather than forcing the growth of the trees by the use of manures and fertilizers rich in nitrogen. In some rare instances the soil may be deficient in plant food, and the intelligent use of mineral plant foods will prove very beneficial.

It is when the orchards begin to produce large crops of fruit that the demands for plant food must be met if profitable crops of superior fruit are secured. At this time the roots of the trees have taken possession of practically all of the soil, and have utilized the larger portion of the available plant food so that the addition of manure or fertilizer is essential.

The function of the soil in furnishing the trees with nourishment is an exceedingly complex one, and there are certain well-defined laws that must be kept in mind for improvement and maintenance of the fertility of the soil that is occupied by the trees. Some orchardists advocate soil mulch, others depend upon cultivation and the liberal use of fertilizers and barn manures, others cover crops and mineral fertilizers as a means of improving and maintaining the fertility of orchard soils.

The fact that no two soils require the same line of treatment has caused a confusion of ideas in the management of orchard soils.

DEVICE FOR PULLING TREES

Apparatus Shown in Illustration Found Entirely Satisfactory in Removing Brush.

For removing bushes and small trees the device illustrated herewith has proved very satisfactory. It consists of a five or six-foot stick of round, tough wood such as hickory, and, say, three inches in diameter, with a single-tree attached at one end and a trace chain at the other. The chain is passed around the sapling and hooked to the pole, says the Orange Judd Farmer. While a horse pulls the roots are cut with an ax on the opposite side, and soon the tree comes out with a rush.

Life of Peach Trees.

It is claimed that the most profitable period in the life of a peach tree is from 4 to 8 years. From a peach census taken last year in Orange county, N. Y., it seems that thorough cultivation is more essential to the peach tree than either pruning or spraying.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES

Fall is the best season for planting all deciduous trees and bushes.

Cherries will not thrive planted on low, moist or cold, heavy soils.

Any good dry land that will grow the regular farm crops will grow cherries.

The future of apple growing has never looked so bright as it does today.

The fungicidal value of lime-sulphur is increased by the addition of arsenate of lead.

Grapes are apt to overbear and it is never safe to let them set all the fruit they will.

Healthy foliage held late in the season enables the trees to build stronger buds for the next crop.

Arsenate of lead which is held over from the year before will be good if it has not dried out and become a hard lump.

Where the San Jose scale is troublesome the currant is objectionable in the orchard as it affords a great harbor for these pests.

Don't expect a small knapsack sprayer will do the work for large fruit trees. It is not large or strong enough. You need a barrel pump.

The common Bordeaux mixtures, sometimes called the 4-4-40 mixture, is composed of 4 pounds bluestone, 4 pounds quicklime and 40 gallons of water.

For scab, leaf spot, brown rot, mildew and leaf blight, use the Bordeaux mixture before leaves or blossoms open on apple, peach, pear, plum or cherry trees.

If a cold wet spell comes when apples are in bloom, spray with Bordeaux mixture to prevent scab. This fungus is always most destructive in a cool, wet spring.

An interesting scheme of selection in growing annuals is to start with the A's in the seed catalogue and plant a certain number each year until the entire alphabet has been covered.

Aid to the Unlovely.

"I try to be an efficient city directory," said the hotel clerk, "but balk of recommending a beauty doctor to women guests."

"That is one of the first things they want to know. Churches, theaters, even dressmakers can wait a few days, but the beauty doctor is an immediate necessity. Unfortunately, they do not get much satisfaction out of me. Any number of beauty specialists leave cards for distribution, but so many of them have been mixed up in lawsuits that I feel squeamish about delivering

CLING TO OLD DESIGNATIONS

Sporting Language That Was Used in the Middle Ages Is Still Good Form Today.

Much of the language used in various sports is our inheritance from the middle ages. Different kinds of beasts when in companies were distinguished by their own particular epithet, which was supposed to be in some manner descriptive of the habits of the animals. To use the wrong form of these words subjected the would-be sportsman to ridicule.

Many of these terms have passed away, but some of them are still retained. This list from the middle ages is still good usage today. A "pride of lions," a "loper of leopards," a "herd of harts and of all sorts of deer;" a "bivy" of roses, a "sloth" of bears, a "singular" of boars, a "sunder" of wild swine, a "route" of wolves, a "harras" of horses, a "ray" of colts, a "stud" of mares, a "pace" of asses, a "barren" of mules, a "team" of oxen, a "drove" of kine, a "flock" of sheep, a "trite" of goats, a "skulk" of foxes, a "down" of hares, a "next" of rabbits, a "clowder" of cats, a "shrewdness" of apes and a "labor" of moles.

Also of animals when they retired to rest, a hart was said to be "harbored," a roebuck "bedded," a hare "formed," a rabbit "set." Two greyhounds were called a "brace," but two harriers were called a "couple." There was also a "mute" of hounds for a number, a "kennel" of raches, a "litter" of whelps and a "cowardice" of curs.

This kind of descriptive phraseology was not confined to birds and beasts, but was extended to the human species and the various propensities, natures and callings.

SALT PUT TO VARIED USES

Invaluable to Mankind Though as a Condiment It Should Be Employed Sparingly.

If food is tasteless without salt, it is ruined with too much. Unappetizing cooking is often due to guesswork. A level teaspoonful of salt is sufficient for a quart of soup, sauce, or vegetables.

Salt used once a day is an excellent dentrifice, tending to keep off tartar. It is said to retard receding gums.

A half teaspoonful of salt added to a cup of hot water—which many persons take each morning—will make it palatable.

Do not gargle with salt water. Throat specialists consider it injurious to the tender mucous membrane of the nose.

Salt water rots the hair, so never fall to rinse with fresh water after sea bathing.

To set color in wash materials and embroidery cottons soak them in strong salt water.

An excellent tonic for nervous people is to take salt rubs twice a day. As sea salt dissolves slowly, some of it can be kept in solution in a glass jar to be ready when needed.

When a child is inclined to bow legs or to have a weak back, rub it night and morning with strong salt water.

A faded carpet is freshened if wiped off with a wet cloth wrung from strong salt water. Sprinkle floor with dampened salt and sweep well.

Bad dyspepsia can be helped by dissolving pinches of salt on the tongue after eating, or when there is a sense of oppression.

Dental Training.

Fifteen years from now if I have any teeth left for anybody to fool with I shall hire a certain Chinese boy to do the fooling," a New York salesman said. "He will be grown up then. I saw him the other day down in Chinatown. He was pulling pegs out of a board with his fingers. The pegs had been driven pretty tight into holes in the board, and it took a good deal of strength to get them out."

"That is a funny game for him to play," I said to a white man who knows the quarter.

"Game!" said he. "That is not a game. The boy is going to be a dentist. His folks have made up their minds about that, and he has commenced early to strengthen his fingers. They train them that way in China because there they pull teeth with the fingers. He will not pull with his fingers here, but the strength and skill will come in handy, just the same."

Dog Policeman Travels Beat.

An Irish terrier named Jerry, which has developed a wonderful capacity for police work, is now stationed at Surbiton, England. The terrier, owned by a sergeant of the Metropolitan police, knows all the "beats" in the district, and always accompanies his master when making patrol by cycle.

Jerry's "specialty" is in the capturing of stray dogs. These he lures in a friendly manner to the police station, and then mounts guard at the gate until the derelict receives official attention.

Boon to Those of Weak Heart.

A German army doctor, M. Schurig, has put on the market an invention which he declares will be the greatest boon of the century to sufferers from heart disease. Those who will be benefited are such as cannot afford a ground floor or a house with an elevator. The invention consists of a slipper that folds into the pocket. The slipper has a very thick and soft sole, and it is maintained that when worn its properties are so wonderful that it is easy to ascend flights of stairs.

Their cards. To satisfy my own conscience and the women at the same time I hand out a bunch of advertisements with the remark that I guess they are about all alike.

"Then they can pay their money and take their choice, and if they lose their hair and complexion they can't come back on me for damages."

Young fruit trees that were planted in the autumn of last year, or in the spring of this year, should be examined carefully.

TAVERN ALSO A PAWNSHOP

A time-honored London (Eng.) city tavern, the Castle, at the corner of Cowcross street, facing Farringdon street, enjoys the unique distinction of being also a fully licensed pledge shop. Over the door in the bar, which gives access to the landlord's private room, and thrown into bold relief by the official document behind it, the historic three-sphered symbol is discernible. Any one may here negotiate a loan upon his personal belongings without being under the necessity of first calling for refreshment. Formerly the house had a special pledge counter resembling the modern "Bottle and Jug" department, but this is no longer in evidence.

This strange combination of business dates from the reign of George IV., who, after attending a cock fight at Hockley-in-the-Hole, applied to the landlord of the Castle for a temporary accommodation on the security of his watch and chain. By royal warrant a few days later he invested that obliging boniface with the right of advancing money on pledges, and from that time down to the present a pawnbroker's license has been annually granted to the Castle. This hostelry is mentioned once or twice by Dickens in his novels.

Testimony of the Blind.

Before the trial was half ended it was apparent that most credence was placed in the testimony for the defendant.

"That is because he has two blind men testifying for him," said a man who has served on many juries. "When it comes to a question of memory the word of a blind man goes further in a courtroom than that of a person with good eyes. It is with the jurymen that his testimony really counts, but the judge and lawyers are also impressed. This is taking into consideration, of course, that the blind man has a reputation for veracity. We assume that with the loss of one faculty others have developed. What a man cannot see he hears, and his mind stores up for him. Our faith in the retentiveness of a blind man's memory has been frequently justified. When a person with all his senses would become confused and testify vaguely, the blind man can repeat a conversation verbatim."

If the peas are obstinate about using the supports provided for them, give them a start up to the brush or wire, and they will cause no more trouble.
